During this webinar, we will discuss the Medicaid medical benefit policy on mobility aids, including areas currently under review. We will clarify the role of the physician, occupational or physical therapist, and qualified rehabilitation professional (QRP) in the wheeled mobility seating assessment process. We will discuss the clinical indications for mobility aids and how that may impact the provisions of occupational and physical therapy services. Also to be addressed: medical necessity for mobility aids, devices covered as a benefit, considerations for prior authorization, and an overview of the billing codes that Medicaid recognizes for benefits rendered through this policy.
